

No Wrong Door: Serving Survivors of Domestic Violence with Disabilities

JULY 26, 2010 10:00AM – 4:00PM
FT. WALTON BEACH, FL

People with disabilities experience domestic violence and sexual violence at higher rates than people without disabilities. Survivors with disabilities face additional barriers to escape such as isolation, threats of violence, and communication barriers. This workshop will address what you can do to ensure your door is the right door when a survivor reaches out to your agency such as appropriate referrals, effective communication tools, and safety planning. Closing the gap between all services is essential in ensuring safety and justice for survivors with disabilities.
